A Personal Message from Alex Insley

Dear Resident

I am a 33 year old local man who is passionate about making a real difference to the quality of life in our community. I was born in Solihull and have lived in Monkspath for the past 15 years so I am well placed to completely understand the real issues at the heart of our community.

The passion that I have is driven from the real world experiences that I have lived through, having successfully run my own business for the last 7 years. It is through this experience that my decisive and pro-active nature was developed, helping me to solve the many problems that arise efficiently and effectively.

My real passion is my care for the environment, and this has stemmed from having a business in the LED lighting industry.

I see it as a vital role for a local councillor in the ward of Blythe to be able to give back to the community. In doing this I hope to improve our local environment and surroundings in a way that can benefit the lives of all residents for the better.

Yours sincerely

Alex Insley
